OBITUARY.

Mrs. John E. Burgess.
Charles E. Burgess, wife of John E. Burgess, died at her home in Lebanon Saturday of meningitis. Mrs. Burgess had been ill about two months. She was a native of Lebanon and was 55 years old on the day of her death. Besides her husband there survive three small children, Maurice E., aged 5, Edna Ruth, aged 4, and John E., aged 2 years. There also survive her parents, Irwin W. and Nellie Eliza (Stiles) Hewitt, also of Lebanon. Mrs. Burgess had a large circle of friends who mourn her untimely death.

Cases of Whooping Cough.
It is estimated by the physicians that there are at least 150 to 200 cases of whooping cough in the city and a number of the worst cases are those of adults. There are four cases of scarlet fever under quarantine restrictions.

Blatant Wild Geese.
Wild geese in the hill section of the city Monday morning awakened a number of the residents from slumber. J. B. Baldwin heard the noisy honking and Capt. Charles C. Smith was out in his car at 5:30 o'clock, saw a large pair flying low over his place in their northward flight. It was rather an unusual sight to see the geese at this season of the year.

Fall Foots Into River.
Patrick J. Donohue, 9 West Park street, was on his way home from the city Monday afternoon at about 2:30 o'clock. He was on his way home from the city on the railroad and while walking over the Central Vermont bridge missed his footing and fell a distance of forty feet to the Willimantic river landing. His feet in the edge of the stream. Had he fallen when he was five feet nearer the western end of the structure, he would have landed on a jagged ledge, or a few feet the other side would have gone into the river and have been drowned before given him.

The ambulance was sent for and Capt. E. H. Richmond and Officer Ensign were called to the scene. Mr. Donohue was not badly injured, sustaining a slight scalp wound on the back of his head.

SOUTH COVENTRY LINE

Will Be Operated as Soon as Possible—Various Delays Make Date Indefinite.
The new Willimantic-South Coventry trolley line will be ready for operation as soon as the work can be finished, is what Charles R. Harter, engineer in charge of the construction of the line, says. The opening of the new extension hinges on the completion of the high-tension transmission line from Thamesville to South Windham, which it is said, will take a number of weeks still. The line is to be carried over poles already in place and from Tataville up another new pole line will be necessary. Considerable delay was resulted from the non-arrival of material, and has hampered the company.

Mr. Harter said that as far as he knew no negotiations have been made with the United Power company and that personally he did not believe that there is a probability of the new line being operated by power generated by that company.

TIERNY CADETS
Two Branches of Juvenile Temperance Society Formed.

The interest in the movement to form a branch of the Tierny Cadets in this city has been so great that two divisions are to be formed, one for the older boys, and another for the younger.

MRS. MARGARET RYALL
Sent Out of Connecticut for Breach of the Peace—Takes Two Year Old Daughter Along.

What may be the closing chapter in the story of the life of Mrs. Margaret Ryall, the mother of the disgraced family, was brought into the town court, charged with breach of the peace. Mrs. Ryall's predicament was due to her unbecoming conduct at the town fair, where she has been staying. After creating considerable disturbance she took her two year old baby girl and left what was a far better home than she had been privileged to enjoy since the people of Danielson have come to know about her.

After a search in various parts of the town she was arrested by Constable Eugene Gibney on the road between Attawapung and Ballouville. JUNE CARNIVAL
For Benefit of Day-Kimball Hospital Proves a Pronounced Success.

The June carnival was held in Grove street Monday afternoon and evening and was a brilliant success in every detail through the clever management of Mrs. Lilla Leach, chairman of the entertainment committee of the women's board of the Day-Kimball hospital and her loyal assistants.

Grove street was a perfect midway from the corner of Grove and South Main streets to the corner of Grove and King streets. The lawn was all attractively decorated with bunting, flags, Japanese lanterns and the street was an arch of brilliant lighting produced by the aid of extra arc lights suspended from one side of the street to the other.

Supper First.
Guests attending the carnival from out of town first stopped at the Johnson home, where a most tempting supper was served, which consisted of cold meats, salads, rolls, cake, strawberries and coffee. The supper was in charge of Mrs. Leach, whose assistants were Mrs. W. H. Mansfield, Mrs. Burgess, Miss Johnson, Miss Lizzie Child. The supply table was in charge of Mrs. Lilla Leach, Mrs. M. J. O'Williams, Mrs. S. A. Wing. After enjoying this delicious supper the next lawn in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thayer, Mrs. Frank Thayer, O'Williams, Mrs. S. A. Wing. After enjoying this delicious supper the next lawn in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Thayer, Mrs. Frank Thayer, O'Williams, Mrs. S. A. Wing.

Guests Registered.
Guests registered on the lawn of H. L. Burt for the small sum of three cents. It was surprising how rapidly the lawn was filled with guests. Mrs. H. L. Burt and Mrs. George Newell were the register clerks.

Fancy Work Sale.
At the Congregational parsonage the porch was the center of attraction for the ladies with taste for hand made articles. Mrs. F. D. Sargent, Miss Bertha Sargent of Putnam.

Piazza Whist.
A delightful whist, which was largely patronized, was held upon the porch at Mr. and Mrs. J. Thayer's during the afternoon, in charge of Mrs. Gorman, Mrs. Sullivan and Miss Sarah Harnett.

Graceful Folk Dancing.
A novel feature of the afternoon was the singing and dancing by Apollo Astrigante, a native of Italy. Boarding at the home of Miss Eleanor Matheson, Mrs. A. D. Briggs and Mrs. E. C. Grover, all of whom were present. Mrs. F. E. Clarke and Miss Charlotte Manning.

The ladies in charge of this table were Mrs. Warren Averill, Miss Eleanor Matheson, Mrs. McKenna, Mrs. A. D. Briggs and Mrs. E. C. Grover, all of whom were present. Mrs. F. E. Clarke and Miss Charlotte Manning.

Evening Entertainment.
While all these tables were largely patronized, the evening entertainment was the greatest sale took place in the evening, as the dancing and music attracted well night every person in Putnam. This opportunity for an automobile ride to the old cemetery and return for a dime was improved by many.

Other Attractions.
Mrs. H. O. Preston, assisted by Misses Bessie Carpenter and Vera Converse, served ice cream and cake upon the former's porch and lawn. Another attractive point was the lawn at 156 Grove street where a large sign announced a sale of lawn furniture. This rampage sale was in charge of Mrs. Henry Morse, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. Torrey, Mrs. Nadeau. Articles of all descriptions were included in their stock. Mrs. J. B. Kent and Mrs. J. M. Kent served afternoon tea on J. R. Tatum's lawn.

Art Gallery.
